

ARPHYMEDES

Back together to the Transnational Project Meeting in Trnava!

The attractive landscape around us is Trnava in Slovakia, the TPM (Transnational Project Meeting) of the ARphymedes project has just concluded.

The 3-day meeting took place in hybrid form (on-site and online) at the University of Sts. Cyril and Methodius in Trnava, at the Institute of Management, from 1 to 3 March 2023.

The consortium succeeded, as it has become accustomed to doing, in creating a comfortable and intensively communicative dimension that allowed work to continue, new research, new experiments, new materials and resources to be carried out.

What has been done?

The TPM confirmed the resilience, adaptability, flexibility and understanding of the different needs among the various parties involved in the project, representing a further important moment of cooperation and sharing.

The highlights of the vivid cooperation in Slovakia can be summarised as follows:

- We identified and incorporated ARs, videos, animations, images that will make our materials highly interactive and engaging for students and teachers.
- Instructions or misunderstandings that arise during resource development, such as student book chapters, were discussed together and analysed in order to improve organisational and cooperative processes.
- Further topics were addressed, such as the visibility of all the multimedia content of the project (such as AR-related, videos from our YouTube channel and more) on our website and our social media

You will find links to our website and social media always at the bottom of our newsletters.

What can we expect in the future?

The student book is flourishing again, thanks to the great content development work. New chapters are on the way, each harmoniously designed, waiting impatiently to be read from our Augmented Reality App.

Is there any more news?

The partnership is working intensively and in parallel on another major resource: the teacher book.

First drafts have been presented and discussed in detail.

Get ready, you will hear about it soon.
